DETAILED ACTION

1. The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81. No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Marinello et al. (US Patent 5,714,291).

Regarding claim 1, Marinello et al. teaches a method comprising the step of dispensing the authentication material in powder form over the article before the ink used in printing said article is fully cured (Abstract and Figure 1).

Regarding claim 2, Marinello et al. teaches a method comprising the step of dispensing the authentication material in powder form over the article before ink used in printing the article is fully cured (Abstract and Figure 1), the dispensing being performed by the same equipment used for dispensing spray powder during printing of said article (30,34).

Regarding claim 3, Marinello et al. teaches a method comprising the step of mixing the authentication material with a spray powder used during printing of the article (Abstract, Column 4, Lines 6-20 and Lines 49-56 and Claims 1,10 and 14).

Regarding claim 4, Marinello et al. teaches a method comprising the step of dispensing the light-activated authentication material in powder form over the article before an ink used in printing said article is fully cured (Column 5, Lines 47-67).

Regarding claim 5, Marinello et al. teaches a method comprising the step of dispensing the magnetic authentication material in powder form over the article before an ink used in printing the article is fully cured (Column 3, Lines 34-65).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over unpatentable over Marinello et al. in view of Itakura et al. (US Publication 2002/0129251).

Marinello et al. teaches the invention, however he does not explicitly disclose a method of adding a biological authentication material to a printed article. Itakura et al. teaches a method of authentication (Paragraphs 0033,0034,0035,0039,0049,0050 and 0053) utilizing an article with a DNA based material used for identify useful information. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the invention as taught by Marinello et al. to include the biological authentication material as taught by Itakura et al., since Itakura et al. uses DNA to authenticate and/or identify an article.

Art Unit: 2854
